APPROVING THE RESEARCH DEVELOPMENT AND EXTENSION AGENDA
2023-2028 OF CAGAYAN STATE UNIVERSITY-CARIG CAMPUS

WHEREAS CSU is committed to advancing research and extension initiatives that align with national development goals, promote sustainable growth, and contribute meaningfully to local, national, and global communities;

WHEREAS the Research Development and Extension (RDE) Agenda 2023-2028 of Cagayan State University-Carig Campus has been formulated to prioritize niche programs and projects in critical areas including food innovation, environmental management, disaster risk reduction, governance, socio-economics, human health and wellness, and emerging technologies, all of which are vital to addressing urgent local and global challenges;

WHEREAS the Carig Campus RDE Agenda 2023-2028 includes the following key niche programs and projects, designed to address specific areas of need:

- (i.) Climate Change Environmental Management and Risk Reduction
- (ii.) Education Studies
- (iii.) Culture and Arts
- (iv.) Industry Engineering and Emerging Technologies
- (v.) Food Safety and Security
- (vi.) Human Health and Wellness
- (vii.) Information and Communication Technologies (ICT) and Artificial Intelligence (AI)
- (viii.) Governance

WHEREAS the CSU Carig Campus RDE Agenda 2023-2028 also envisions the establishment of research centers and laboratories, including the Food Innovation Center, Electromobility Research and Development Center, Metals Engineering and Innovation Center, and the Animal Research Facility, which are expected to foster innovation and contribute significantly to societal well-being;

WHEREAS the Management Committee of CSU has thoroughly reviewed the CSU Carig Campus RDE Agenda 2023-2028 and strongly recommends its approval and adoption from the CSU Board of Regents, noting its strategic importance in realizing the university's vision of becoming a globally competitive institution;
